Anwei Grid Admission Colleges

Overview

Who is Anwei Feng?

Anwei Feng is Professor of Education and leader of the Professional Doctorate in Education (EdD) programme at the University of Nottingham Ningbo China (UNNC). He joined UNNC in September 2013.

What are the tiers of college admission?

Students are divided into six tiers based on their GPA—the lowest tier includes all students on track to graduate from high school, and the highest tier includes students with a 3.5 GPA or higher. Participating colleges choose which tiers of students to admit.

How do you get admission to a college?

To receive full admission to the institution, the student must submit a full transcript, verify personal information and submit a deposit, says Luke Skurman, CEO and founder of Niche. The second group includes colleges the student hasn't demonstrated interest in, but that would accept the student.
