BETA VRM Update: Enhanced Dynamic ESS Chart Now Shows

The updated 'Energy' graph for Dynamic ESS offers a clearer and more precise view of your system's activity, both past and future. Previously, the graph included some simplifications to provide quick insights into Dynamic ESS operations. However, many users requested a more detailed breakdown of energy flows. In the previous version, solar ...

To explore how Dynamic ESS Green Mode can benefit your setup, navigate to the DESS settings and enable this feature. The current mode of Dynamic ESS, trade mode, will still be available.

Trade mode considers the economic benefits of selling to the grid versus self-consumption. In doing so, if selling back to the grid is more profitable than

ESS Dynamic

Hi all I recently set up Dynamic ESS with Octopus energy At first it seemed to work showing the electricity prices night rate (2:00 to 5:00am) and peak rate (16:00 to 21:00) What i noticed is that if there is not enough PV to fully charge the batteries it won't charge the batteries at the scheduled charge times 02:05 for 2:54 hours but rather like to charge the ...

Dynamic ESS

I have tried Dynamic ESS node RED flow and on top of my other post regarding settings I have possible issue with battery charging. Not sure if that behaviour is expected or it can be modified, but even when batery is not charged, grid costs are low, there is excess, batery is still in idle state and not charging, but excess is sent back to grid.

Dynamic ESS

Hi, I enabled Dynamic ESS and it works ok during the day, it is trying to keep the battery SoC to 100%. But this target remaining during the night and for next day even that the forecast indicates a lot of Sunny. So, in the next day I lost the PV power because the battery is already full. Ofcourse, my load during the evening and night is from grid.

Dynamic ESS is an algorithm that aims to minimise the costs made on the grid and battery. Please check the three previous posts on the subject for further information. You can get started with it on beta-VRM via Settings -> Dynamic ESS. There is a concept manual. All feedback can be provided below.

Dynamic ESS for UK Octopus users now on regular VRM

Thanks for the response and feedback. It's great to save time with automation. I think the system feature I'm looking for isn't actually one I should be requesting in the Dynamic ESS forum, but perhaps the Victron main software discussion.

The other software I've seen from competitors system allows scheduled discharging for time and duration entries but lacks the ...
