Energy cutting solutions Angola

Overview

Does Angola need solar energy?

Angola already boasts an impressive renewable energy component in its energy matrix, primarily derived from water resources. However, we recognise the potential for solar energy to complement this matrix and provide essential energy security.

Who will build a 50 MW solar power plant in Angola?

The Italian company ENI signed a concession agreement with the government for the construction of a 50 MW solar plant in Namibe province, in southwestern Angola. The solar power plant will be constructed by Solenova, a joint venture between ENI and Angolan state-owned oil producer Sonangol.

What is Angola's energy mix?

Angola's current installed capacity is estimated at 5.7 GW but only 70 percent is in use. The country's current energy mix consists of 61.8 percent hydropower, 37.6 percent other fossil fuels and 0.6 percent hybrid (solar/fossil fuel).

How much does Angola spend on electricity?

The portion of the Angolan government budget dedicated to the electricity production, transmission and distribution sectors increased to US$ 817.2 million in 2023 from US$490 million in 2022. Angola's national budget for electricity assessment allocated is around US$ 249.4 million.

Will Angola achieve a 60 percent electrification rate by 2025?

To achieve a targeted 8.9 GW of installed generation capacity and a 60 percent electrification rate by 2025, the government has instituted an ambitious infrastructure plan. Angola's current installed capacity is estimated at 5.7 GW but only 70 percent is in use.

How will MCA contribute to Angola's solar generation capacity?

MCA aims to contribute significantly to the country's solar generation capacity, leveraging the expertise gained from our ongoing solar projects. This project will be closely intertwined with efficient water resource management. While Angola is rich in water resources, changing climate patterns necessitate comprehensive water management.
