The Solar Nation of Tokelau: An adventure in documentary making

Abstract. Commentary: The Tokelau solar project first came to the attention of this filmmaker at a Pacific Energy Summit in Auckland, New Zealand, in 2013. Three remote islands in the Pacific becoming the first 100 percent solar-powered nation on earth and setting an example for the complete adaptation of sustainable energy sounded like a story too good to be ...

Europe's solar industry facing "existential threat"

China Gas Holdings Ltd View all The first asks the bloc to establish an EU-level buyout facility for accumulated EU solar PV module inventories. The second calls for an immediate modification of the Temporary Crisis and Transition Framework, which was adopted as a support measure for sectors key to the energy transition. The ESMC wants the
