Exergy group Zimbabwe

Overview

Who is exergy?

Exergy is a leading specialist recruitment consultancy dedicated to the diverse and challenging Global Energy and Infrastructure markets. Investing time and energy in understanding both the industry and our clients' businesses has given us a competitive advantage in staffing challenging, technical projects across the varied MEA region.

Why should the IEUG be established in Zimbabwe?

The establishment of the IEUG in Zimbabwe is seen as a real game changer, it allows the private sector to procure reliable, secure, predictable, and uninterrupted power at competitive prices.

Why should you choose Exergy as a MENA based business?

As a MENA based business we truly understand the importance of the water industry. At a time of increased global need there is a clear talent gap in this sector. Exergy have worked hard to cultivate a global network of experienced water specialists to enable us to support projects across desalination, waste water, sewage and pipelines.

Who owns Kariba floating solar development company?

The stakeholders plan to set up a development company – the Kariba Floating Solar Development Company – which will be majority owned by IEUG members (52 percent) to implement the project. Zimbabwe's sovereign wealth fund will own 10 percent and the remaining stake available to institutional investors.
