What is Ethiopia-Kenya Electricity Highway?

Ethiopia-Kenya Electricity Highway - The network comprises 650 miles of transmission lines that allow electricity to flow between Ethiopia and Kenya. It means that the two East African countries, which rely on renewable energy sources, have access to backup supplies from their neighbor.

How much does the Ethiopia-Kenya electricity highway cost?

The Ethiopia-Kenya Electricity Highway follows the model of other interconnectors in Africa, including one between Zambia and Namibia, which has run since 2010 and cost $300 million to construct, and a 1,000-mile interconnector between two regions of the Democratic Republic of the Congo, running since 1982 and costing over $800 million.

Is energy a key enabler of Kenya's long-term development agenda?

Energy is one of the key enablers of Kenya's long term development agenda the Vision 2030 which aims to ensure Kenya becomes a 'newly-industrializing, middle-income economy, providing a high quality of life to all its citizens in a clean and secure environment'. Congratulations! pic.twitter.com/2IAKtAlmDI.

Does Ethiopia have a power supply for Kenya?

Since the highway opened, Ethiopia's electricity supply has provided vital backup for Kenya, which has been importing 200 megawatts (MW) of power daily from its neighbor, equivalent to around 10% of the peak demand of Kenya's national grid. The interconnector has the capacity to transfer up to 2,000 MW.

Can Ethiopia become Africa's biggest hydroelectric exporter?

Built on the Blue Nile River near Ethiopia's border with Sudan, the $5 billion dam will generate 6,000 megawatts of electricity annually. The project aims to turn Ethiopia into Africa's biggest hydroelectric exporter. But the dam has been controversial from the get-go.
