Iran enertech global

Overview

What is Enertech global?

Enertech Global builds high-quality heat pumps and distributes solar PV and other energy-efficient products. Our mission is to make energy independence accessible through innovative products, exceptional quality, and world-class support that endures long after installation.

Will Iran become an energy importer?

Years of mismanagement and false priorities threaten to turn the country into an energy importer. Iran has one of the biggest reserves of natural gas and crude oil in the world, holding the second-largest proven gas reserves and fourth-largest proven crude reserves.

How does Iran's dependence on gas-fired power plants affect the environment?

Iran's dependence on gas-fired power plants has also worsened its environmental impact. The country ranks among the top contributors to global greenhouse gas emissions, with pollution levels disproportionate to its economic output. From energy exporter to importer.

Why is Iran Facing a gas crunch?

The gas crunch adds to the growing list of strains on Iran's economy. The country is one of the world's biggest oil and gas producers, but has been plagued by significant energy shortages caused by years of US sanctions and chronic under-investment in power infrastructure. The government is also under pressure internationally.

Why should you partner with Enertech?

Learn more about partnering with Enertech to experience how we provide energy-efficient products and services. Enertech Global builds and distributes the highest quality geothermal and solar products. Experience the difference, with family values and service at our core.

Does Iran rely on natural gas?

While neighboring countries like Turkey have tried to diversify their energy mix -- balancing coal, natural gas, oil and renewables -- Iran relies overwhelmingly on natural gas. Over 95% of Iranian households are connected to gas pipelines, an infrastructure focus that analysts consider misguided.
