Overview

Types of photovoltaic (PV) systems. There are many types and configurations of PV systems. The three principal classifications are: Standalone PV; Grid-connected (GC) PV; Hybrid PV; The specific type is selected based on the application. For example, for a remote village or island standalone PV system is a suitable topology.

Which Type Of Solar Panel Is Best For You?

The type of solar panel you need depends on the type of system you want to install. For a traditional rooftop solar panel system, you'll usually want monocrystalline panels due to their high efficiency. If you have a big roof with a lot of space, you might choose polycrystalline panels to save money upfront. Want to DIY a portable solar setup on an RV or boat?

Jamaica

"A lot of countries, when the developers are putting up new buildings, the roofs have to be designed in a certain way to accommodate photovoltaic panels. In fact, in some places, the roofs and windows are made of photovoltaic panels, which are part of the legislation," he says, adding that this approach should be undertaken in Jamaica.

Types of photovoltaic cells

Although crystalline PV cells dominate the market, cells can also be made from thin films--making them much more flexible and durable. One type of thin film PV cell is amorphous silicon (a-Si) which is produced by depositing thin layers of silicon on to a glass substrate. The result is a very thin and flexible cell which uses less than 1% of the silicon needed for a crystalline cell.
