New finding photocell 1000x more power!

Since existing solar cells are approximately 20% efficient already, this is impressive. Let's do the math here and say  $20\% * 1000$ , or 20,000% efficient cells. These cells will not only convert

100% of the sunlight hitting them into electricity, but they will further Hoover up another 19,900% of the nearby light and convert THAT into electricity
