Where can I switch to solar power generation

Overview

If you think your energy supplier is charging you over the odds, and you'd like to look around for a better deal, don't be put off just because you've got a tariff arrangement. Whether you have the Feed-in-Tariff or Smart Export Guarantee with a particular energy supplier, you can still switch to a different supplier for your.

An export tariff is money paid out by most energy companies (certainly all the big ones) for the electricity you generate at home. It also pays you for.

All export payments are set by OFGEM – so there's no need to compare energy companies, or switch for a better deal on your payments. If you.

All the main energy companies – including British Gas, EDF, E.ON, Npower, and ScottishPower, as well as OVO Energy – must offer export contracts. Many smaller suppliers also offer them.

No – you don't have to stay with the same licensee forever. You can change whenever you want. And if you want to transfer from FIT payments to SEG payments, you can do.
